

Expression of Interest under project “Identification of extent of forest land in forest fringe villages” for Anchor and Socio Economic expert

Interested academicians/professionals/practitioners are invited to contribute and act as Anchor and Socio Economic Expert to integrate all the findings of the project being implemented by the Nodal officers of the respective project implementing centres of ICFRE under the project “Identification of extent of forest land in forest fringe villages” implemented by FRI, Dehradun under the funding by National Rainfed Area Authority (NRAA), New Delhi. The Anchor and Socio Economic Experts will be provided necessary infrastructure along with remunerations as discussed below while working for this project. The initial project tenure is only upto March, 2016; however it may be extended based upon the requirement. The project deliverables, desired academic experiences and emoluments are as:

SN	Position and Nos.	Role	Required Qualification/Experience
1.	Anchor (1 no.)	Overall supervision to finalise the final printable document	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Ph.D in Biological Sciences preferably in ecology• Professional knowledge of landscape ecology and remote sensing• More than 25 years field experience on Ecology and Ecosystem Studies- Grassland, Biodiversity, Forestry, Remote Sensing
2.	Senior Socio Economic Expert (1 no.)	Analysis and to make final reports	Master in Sociology/Social Work (MSW)/Social Science with minimum 5 years’ work experience in similar kind of project
3.	Socio Economic Expert (1 no.)	Analysis and to make final analysis	Master in Sociology/Social Work (MSW)/Social Science with minimum 3 years’ work experience in similar kind of project

Interested experts are requested to send their applications and their Curricula Vitae/Resume to PI of the project; Director, Forest Research Institute (dir_fri@icfre.org) & Project Coordinator-cum-Head Forest Informatics Division (head_fi@icfre.org) either by post or by email latest by 15th February (up to 05.00 pm) 2016.

Head

Forest Informatics Division
Forest Research Institute
P.O. New Forest
Dehradun 248006 (Uttarakhand)
Phone: 0135-2224372